- (j) a reference to a party includes that party's executors, administrators, substitutes, successors and permitted assigns.

2. Appointment

2.1. Commencement

Your employment will commence with the Company on the Commencement Date outlined in Item 4 of the Schedule.

2.2. Role

- (a) You are employed in the position and basis outlined in Item 3 of the Schedule.

- (b) The specific duties and responsibilities of the position are outlined in the position description provided to You separately.
- (c) The Company may reasonably require You to perform other tasks from time-to-time and at its discretion, reasonably change your position, reporting arrangements and duties.

2.3. Probation

- (a) Your employment is subject to a probationary period of six months from the Commencement Date.
- (b) If during Your probation period You take leave that is not counted as service within the Act, Your probation period may be extended by the same number of days You take as leave.
- (c) The Company may in its discretion extend the probation period.
- (d) This Contract is conditional upon Your satisfactory performance during the probation period.

2.4. Principal Duties

2.4.1. During Your engagement you must:

- (a) serve the Company faithfully and diligently, performing all duties assigned to You to the best of Your abilities and knowledge.
- (b) exhibit integrity and ethics when managing all dealings with the Company, our employees, our partners, our partner's clients, and suppliers.
- (c) use Your best endeavors to promote, develop and extend the Company's business and ensure the Company's profitability.
- (d) comply with reasonable management directions given to You by the Company, its directors and members of the executive team.
- (e) carry out all tasks and activities as may be allocated from time to time by the Company, whether for the Company or a Group Entity.
- (f) comply with all laws (including work health and safety legislation) and the rules and regulations of external agencies applying to the role and the duties assigned to You; and
- (g) contribute to the development of the Company's culture and interact with all colleagues in a professional and respectful manner;

2.4.2. You must not:

- (a) be directly or indirectly involved or engaged in any other work, position or business which includes the following:
 - (i) a current partner of the Company.
 - (ii) a current client of one of the Company's partners.
 - (iii) a competitor to a partner of the Company in the same industry as the company.
 - (iv) a potential client engaged or proposing to engage with a partner of the Company.

- (v) a potential client looking to procure similar products to that offered by the Company.
- (b) accept any financial or other benefit in performing Your duties except from the Company.
- (c) bind or make representations on behalf of the Company except as the Company expressly authorises You.
- (d) otherwise act in conflict with the Company's best interests; or
- (e) have any conflict of interest with the Company.

2.5. Rights to Work in Australia

- (a) Your employment with the Company is contingent on You having and maintaining the legal right to work within Australia, which will be verified prior to Your Commencement Date.
- (b) It is a condition of employment that You are lawfully entitled to be employed to perform all duties assigned to You. Your employment with the Company will automatically cease and no compensation or termination benefits (other than those that You are lawfully entitled to, if any) will be payable to You if at any time during Your employment You are, or become, no longer lawfully entitled to be employed in Australia to perform the duties. The Company may require You to provide evidence that this condition is met.

2.6. Information

- (a) You warrant that all information You have disclosed to the Company and anyone acting on behalf of the Company in relation to Your recruitment and ultimately Your employment is true and correct in every particular and specifically, except to the extent disclosed, You warrant that You suffer from no condition or impediment and have no obligation which may adversely affect Your ability to fulfil the duties of the Role to the Company's satisfaction (for example, medical condition; mental, physical or legal impairment; military or emergency services involvement; family or carer responsibilities).
- (b) It is a condition of employment that prior to commencing employment, You provide original copies of any qualifications or professional registration memberships deemed to be essential to Your employment or which You represented You had when applying for employment.

2.7. Place of Work

- (a) Your primary place of work will be the location described in Item 6 of the Schedule, or as otherwise directed by the Company from time to time.
- (b) You are currently employed as a remote worker and Your primary place of work is at Your residential address. However, the Company may require You to work from another location from time to time or on a permanent basis at its sole discretion.
- (c) Due to the nature of the role, You may be required to travel to, and work at, partner and prospective partner sites, and otherwise as directed by the Company from time to time. You may also be required to travel interstate or overseas as reasonably required from time to time in order to fulfill the requirements of Your role.

2.8. Police check

You irrevocably agree that the Company may apply for, or procure the application for, a National Police Certificate in relation to You prior to the commencement of Your employment and as reasonably required during Your employment and You must sign and deliver to the Company such documents and application and provide such other material as the Company may require in relation to applying for such a certificate. While a criminal law outcome will not necessarily affect eligibility of employment, the nature and circumstance of the matter and whether it was disclosed prior to the police certificate being obtained may be taken into account.

3. Remuneration

3.1. Salary

- 1) Your salary is set out within Item 8 of the Schedule.
- 2) You agree that Your remuneration set out within item 8 of the Schedule is paid to You in satisfaction of Your minimum entitlements over a 12-month period and You will not be entitled to any additional payments. This includes compensation for all minimum wages or pay rates and any perceived or actual entitlements to payment on breaks, overtime rates, loadings (including but not limited to annual leave loading and shift loading), penalty rates, allowances and any other entitlement that may be or become due to the Employee under an Industrial Instrument, the Act or any legislation ('Minimum Entitlements')
- 3) You agree that Your remuneration set out within item 8 of the Schedule is paid to You in satisfaction of Your Minimum Entitlements over a 12-month period and You will not be entitled to any additional payments. This means that to the extent that Your salary is greater than any Minimum Entitlement You may have under, Industrial Instrument (including any relevant Modern Award) or legislation, that greater amount:
 - (a) Will be offset against Your Minimum Entitlements; and
 - (b) Includes payments for all hours You work over a 12-month period, public holidays and substitute public holidays (whether You work on these days or not).

3.2. Superannuation

- (a) You will be entitled to superannuation in accordance with the minimum statutory rate set by the superannuation guarantee legislation based on Your Salary, up to the statutory limit. Superannuation will be paid to a Complying Superannuation Fund chosen by You or if there is no fund chosen by You, then to an eligible choice fund nominated by the Company.
- (b) You may salary sacrifice superannuation as permitted by law and providing this does not result in additional costs to the Company.

4. The Working Environment

4.1. Hours of Work

- (a) The Company's Core Business Hours are outlined in Item 7 of the Schedule.
- (b) You will be required to work a 38-hour week plus any additional hours that are reasonably necessary to fulfil the requirements of Your role. Due to the nature of the Company's business, the hours necessary to perform your duties may vary from time to time, and may include reasonable additional hours outside these hours, and on weekends and/or public holidays. Because of the nature of your position, you acknowledge that, within reason, any additional hours that you are required to work in excess of 38 hours per week are reasonable so far as they are necessary for the full and proper performance of your duties under this agreement. Your remuneration includes an amount to compensate for this.

- (c) In some circumstances, You may be requested by the Company to work overtime (that is to say, hours greater than reasonable additional hours) in which case You may be entitled to Time Off in Lieu in accordance with the relevant Company policy.

4.2. Policies and Procedures

You acknowledge and agree:

- (a) You will comply with all Company policies in place from time to time.
- (b) the Company may at any time review, implement, vary and/or terminate policies at any time in its sole discretion.
- (c) the Company's policies do not form part of Your Contract; and
- (d) failure to comply with the Company's policies may result in disciplinary action, up to and including termination.

4.3. Breaks

You are entitled to a one-hour unpaid meal break for each full day worked. While the Company generally does not operate a schedule for meal breaks, it is Your responsibility to ensure You are taking Your meal break within the first five hours of the workday.

4.4. Smoking / Vaping

Smoking and/or vaping is not permitted in any of the Company's premises, including within 15 meters of building entrances. You will also comply with all laws relating to smoking and/or vaping.

5. Leave

5.1. Annual Leave

You will progressively accrue up to four weeks of annual leave each year in accordance with the Act. In the event that your employment status changes to part-time, your leave entitlements will accrue on a pro-rata basis, proportionate to your part-time hours.

5.2. Personal/Carer's Leave

You will progressively accrue up to 10 days of paid personal leave each year in accordance with the Act. In the event that your employment status changes to part-time, your leave entitlements will accrue on a pro-rata basis, proportionate to your part-time hours.

To be entitled to a period of paid or unpaid personal leave, You must provide satisfactory documentary evidence in accordance with the Company's Leave Policy.

5.3. Long Service Leave

Long service leave will accrue in accordance with the relevant state legislation.

5.4. Other Leave

All other leave, including compassionate leave, family and domestic violence leave, parental leave and community service leave, will be provided to You in accordance with the Company's leave policy or the Act, whichever is more generous.

5.5. Public Holidays

You are entitled to be absent from work without loss of pay on a day or part day that is a gazetted public holiday in the State or Territory in which you are employed, in accordance with the Act, unless reasonably required to work by the Company.

Due to the nature of Your role, You may be requested to work on a public holiday, where this request is reasonable.

5.6. Shut down

It is usual for the Company to close or significantly scale back its operations during the Christmas/New Year period. If that occurs, You may be directed to take annual leave, in accordance with the Act and any relevant Modern Award. You are encouraged to retain enough annual leave throughout the year to cover this period or otherwise, You agree to take unpaid leave for part or the entirety of the shutdown.

6. Confidential Information

You agree at all times during and after Your employment with the Company:

- (a) to refrain from directly or indirectly disclosing to a third-party Confidential Information except in the proper course of carrying out Your duties.
- (b) not to use the Confidential Information for any purpose other than for the benefit of the Company;
- (c) to keep confidential all of the Company's Confidential Information; and
- (d) to comply with the terms of this Contract unless otherwise required by applicable laws or regulations.

7. Intellectual Property

All Intellectual Property rights arising from any Works created or developed by You during the course of Your employment (whether alone or with others) will belong to the Company. You agree:

- (a) to assign all existing and future Intellectual Property rights arising from any Works to the Company.
- (b) acknowledge that by virtue of this clause, all such existing rights are vested in the Company, and, on their creation, such future rights will vest in the Company.
- (c) that You may have Moral Rights and in so far as You are able, You waive Your Moral Rights in respect of all of the Works and voluntarily and unconditionally consent to all or any acts or omissions by the Company in relation to the Works which have already occurred or may occur in the future, which may otherwise infringe Your Moral Rights in any of the Works;
- (d) You must do all things reasonably requested by the Company to enable us to assure further the rights assigned, and consents given, under this clause; and
- (e) You warrant that You have consented without coercion or without relying on any representations other than those set out in this Contract.

8. Surveillance

- (a) The Company may use closed circuit television or similar camera systems at company sites, and You acknowledge that adequate notice of the same is given by way of this Contract.
- (b) The Company may conduct electronic surveillance of its information technology system (IT system). The Company may access, review, monitor, record or disclose the use of its IT System by You at any time. Electronic surveillance may include, without limitation, monitoring Your use of the Company's email, internet, computer hard drive, server, and telephone facilities. The Company may block Your access to internet sites or prevent emails being sent or received by You via its systems.
- (c) Electronic surveillance will be conducted by means of software and/or other equipment and may also involve surveillance by employees, contractors, agents, or advisors.
- (d) The computer surveillance may commence from the time at which You first gain access to the Company's IT system. Once commenced the computer surveillance may be continuous and may also occur by way of audits. Electronic surveillance will be ongoing unless You are notified otherwise.
- (e) By signing this Contract, You consent to electronic surveillance immediately being carried out, in accordance with this clause.
- (f) The Company uses, retains, and may disclose information collected by surveillance primarily to:
 - (i) facilitate physical, electronic and information security and personal safety.
 - (ii) collect data with which to monitor and improve its processes.
 - (iii) investigate allegations of misconduct or workplace disputes.
 - (iv) assist police and other law enforcement bodies investigating any offence.
 - (v) assist, to the extent permitted by law, in monitoring, assessing and improving employee performance.
- (g) You expressly consent to the use, retention, and disclosure of such information, including in respect to You during the course of Your employment, as set out in this clause 8.

9. Suspension

In the event that the Company has serious concerns regarding Your conduct, capacity, or performance, which concerns if proven, may warrant termination of Your employment, the Company may, in its sole discretion, suspend You from employment on full pay at any time so the relevant matters can be investigated.

10. Termination

10.1. Termination Without Notice

The Company may terminate Your employment without notice or without a payment in lieu of notice for any of the following reasons:

- (a) Your act or omission amounts to serious misconduct including without limitation committing theft, fraud, property damage or assault in connection with Your employment.

- (b) You bring the Company into disrepute or engage in conduct which causes risk to the reputation, business, or viability of the Company.
- (c) You wilfully refuse or fail to comply with any lawful and reasonable direction given to You by the Company.
- (d) You engage in conduct which is inconsistent with Your continuing employment with the Company including without limitation doing any of the following in connection with Your employment:
 - a. unlawfully discriminating against, victimising or harassing any person.
 - b. willful disobedience of the Company's lawful and reasonable directions, including Company policy.
- (e) You are permanently and totally incapacitated by reason of illness or injury.
- (f) You engage in conduct causing risk to the health and safety of Yourself or others at Your place of employment, including the building in which that place of employment is situated.
- (g) You are persistently in breach of any provision of this Contract.

10.2. Termination During Probation

During the probation period, Your employment with the Company may be terminated by You or the Company giving the other one week’s written notice of termination.

10.3. Termination With Notice

- (a) Following completion of Your probationary period, at any time during the operation of the Contract, the Company may terminate Your employment by providing written notice in accordance with the table below or in accordance with the relevant Modern Award, if applicable, whichever is more favourable:

Length of continuous service	Period of notice
6 months	1 week
6-12 months	2 weeks
12 months	4 weeks
More than 5 years	4 weeks

- (b) If You are over the age of 45 years and have at least two years' service, You are entitled to one additional week's notice of termination.
- (c) You may terminate this Contract at any time by providing the Company with written notice in accordance with the above table.
- (d) The Company may at its discretion, make payment to You in lieu of all or part of this notice period. On termination, You are also entitled to payment for any untaken annual leave entitlements.
- (e) On termination of employment for any reason, You must immediately return to the Company all property, documents and items relating to the business of the Company which You have in Your possession or control. This includes but is not limited to equipment, key-pass, keys, reports, documents, Intellectual Property and Confidential Information.
- (f) In the event that You fail to return any property of the Company upon termination of employment for any reason or if such property is not in good condition and working order:
 - (i) You will pay the Company the costs of the Company replacing that property; and
 - (ii) the replacement costs will be recoverable as a debt immediately due and payable in the amount equal to the reasonable replacement cost of the item(s).
- (g) On termination of employment for any reason, You must also irretrievably delete any Confidential Information stored on any computer, magnetic or optical disk or memory, and all matter derived from those sources in Your possession or control outside of the Company's premises.
- (h) You will repay to the Company the balance of any loans or advances made by the Company against Your pay or leave entitlements, or any other money otherwise owed to the Company by You. The Company reserves the right to deduct any moneys owing to the Company by You from Your final pay, in accordance with relevant legislation and any applicable Modern Award.

10.4. Standing down

You agree that during any period that the Company directs You to stand down, or if either You or the Company gives a notice of termination of employment, except to the extent otherwise directed by the Company:

- (i) the Company is not obliged to provide You with any work.
- (ii) You must not carry out any of Your duties.
- (iii) You must not attend any premises where the Company conducts business.
- (iv) You must not access any of the Company's computer systems or have any contact with any of the Company's clients, suppliers, or employees.
- (v) You must return all the Company's property in Your possession or control including mobile telephones, telephone numbers, client lists, Company records, reports, documents and all confidential information and all copies of any of those things.
- (vi) You must notify the Company of all passwords, access and security codes and similar access methods which are relevant to Your duties or apply to any property of the Company.
- (vii) You must carry out duties directed by the Company provided those duties are within Your ability, even if those duties differ from Your usual duties.

10.5. Restraint

10.5.1. Definitions in this clause

12. General Provisions

12.1. Previous Understandings and Agreements

This Contract constitutes the whole of the terms and conditions of Your Contract with the Company and supersedes all previous agreements, arrangements, understandings, or representations in relation to Your employment with the Company.

12.2. No Waiver

The failure to exercise, or any delay in exercising, any right, power, or remedy under this Contract will not operate as a waiver. Nor will any single or partial exercise of any right, power or remedy preclude any other or further exercise of that or any other right, power, or remedy.

12.3. Execution and Counterparts

This Contract may be signed or executed in counterparts, with the same effect as if the signatures to or execution of each counterpart were on the same instrument. The Company and You agree to be bound by the Contract upon:

- (a) an authorised signatory having signed the Contract or counterpart for the Company; and
- (b) You having signed the Contract.

12.4. Reference to Laws

Where this Contract refers to any law (including an industrial instrument):

- (a) the law operates according to its terms (with the consequence that it may, or may not, apply to You and may be varied, rescinded, or replaced); and
- (b) the law is not incorporated into this Contract and compliance with the law is not a term of this Contract.

12.5. Severability

This Contract will, so far as possible, be interpreted and construed so as not to be invalid, illegal, or unenforceable in any respect, but if a provision, or part of it, on its true interpretation or construction is held to be illegal, invalid, or unenforceable:

- (a) that provision, or part of it, will, so far as possible, be read down to the extent that it may be necessary to ensure that it is not illegal, invalid, or unenforceable and as may be reasonable in all the circumstances so as to give it a valid operation; or
- (b) if the provision or part of it cannot effectively be read down, that provision or part of it will be deemed to be void and severable and the remaining provisions of this Contract will not in any way be affected or impaired and will continue notwithstanding that illegality, invalidity, or unenforceability.

12.6. Governing Law

The terms of this Contract are governed by and are to be construed in accordance with the laws enforced in the state in which You are employed and set out at Item 9 of the Schedule.

12.7. Fair Work Information Statement

By signing the Contract, You acknowledge that the Company has provided You with a copy of the Fair Work Information Statement.
